Porter Keadle Moore, LLP Managing Partner Elected to University Council

Phil Moore To Serve As Chairman of Accounting Advisory Council

December 11, 2003 – Atlanta, GA - Porter Keadle Moore, LLP (PKM), a full-service accounting and consulting firm, is pleased to announce that Managing Partner, Phil Moore, was elected Chairman of the Accounting Advisory Council for the School of Accountancy at Georgia Southern University (GSU). This position carries a two-year term.

The Council's overall purpose is to provide recommendations for continuous improvement. Specific goals of the Council include helping increase job opportunities for graduates and research support for faculty, maintaining the School's international accreditation, bringing highly successful business executives to campus, and acquiring resources necessary to continue the School's development as a leader in business education.

"Phil received the unanimous support of his fellow council members," said Dr. Lowell Mooney, School Director. "He brings new energy, commitment, and vision to the Council and is highly respected. Phil is also an excellent communicator and has the experience and expertise needed to accomplish the Council's rather ambitious agenda."

"Over the years, PKM has enjoyed a symbiotic relationship with Georgia Southern", said Moore. "The firm, while helping the University by mentoring students in the accounting profession, also benefits from its interaction with the highly talented students in the University's system."
